It's been a week since I last checked my e-mail.

I'm afraid to check my e-mail for fear of finding bills.

Oh god, please forgive me for I have failed.

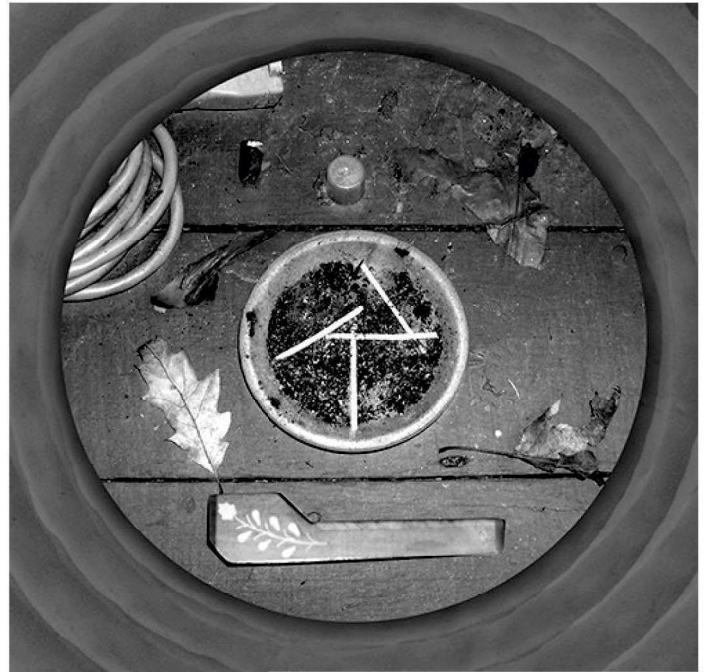

In god we trust, amen.

Wiccan Homage To Alan Watts

This photo is going to be the signature of this project. It is an art photo showing a ceremonial ash-tray out on the back stoop where I take my healing smokes and much of project was conceived. Not unlike Zen philosopher Alan Watts' fondness for martinis. This pic will be large on the website and have a link to its own little photo stream showing a walk around our temple yard.

My First Fine Art
Corrugated Cardboard Box

I was utterly unsure of the materials when I did this first piece of this kind but the project left no choice. I had no other option. In the end I felt delighted with it.

This was Simple Tarot Edition 2-A Copy #1, HANDMADE CARDS, to be MY OWN DECK for years until a suitable manufacturer was found to make this design, Simple Tarot's ideal final form, publicly available online, by automatic manufacture-on-demand, as Edition 2.

Leathery, spooky, with the exposed corrugations looking skeletal in spots.

And cards designed for mass production but alas handmade. What choice would be logically symmetrical if not a handmade box of a mass produced material?

Proper fine art material for free.
